The normal practice in planning days and hours will be to keep them at about 80 hours on up to 10 work periods in the fortnight. If it is more practicable there may be more than 10 planned work periods but the extras are paid as overtime (the Saturday or Sunday work periods will in this case be the overtime). In general meal breaks will be for at least 30 minutes and up to 60 minutes, and rest breaks will be for 10 minutes. Generally meal breaks will be at the mid-point and rest breaks will be at the quarter and three quarter points of the work period. Where meal breaks are at fixed times these are unpaid. It will consult with you or the RMTU in accordance with the administrative instructions (e.g. the Rail Operating Manual) applicable to your work area which are developed in consultation with the RMTU from time to time.

23.6 Planned Short Term Change

If there is capital and/or major maintenance work which is planned to take place on days other than your normal days of work you may be asked whether you will agree to change your normal days to work on these days. In normal circumstances you will be given at least 4 weeks notice and will receive any penal rates that are applicable to you on those days that you do work. No change to your days of work will be made for short term planned tasks without your agreement.

23.7 Short Notice Change

23.7.1 When a change is needed to the planned hours or days of the fortnight that have already been arranged, you will be given as much notice as circumstances permit and consulted where this is possible. We will respect each others needs and commitments and will make practical adaptations if this is desirable and necessary. Except where there is no reasonable alternative available, short notice change will be made by mutual agreement. The planned hours and days for the balance of the fortnight will not be reduced as a result of the change (unless you so agree).

23.7.2 If you wish a change in your planned hours or days of the fortnight you should also give as much notice as circumstances permit, and the employer will endeavour to meet your needs. Examples are exchanges of work periods and unplanned annual leave.

- If it is within 12 months of the entitlement arising, at a time determined by you, taking into account the employer's view as to when it is convenient for you to take the day, provided at least 14 days notice is given by you; or
 - If 12 months have passed since the entitlement to that alternative holiday arose, then if the parties are unable to reach agreement as to the date on which the employee will take the alternative holiday, the employer can determine when that alternative holiday is taken, provided at least 14 days' notice is given to you.

special circumstances the employers may agree to leave being accumulated until a later date. Such agreement should be recorded in writing. Be sure to discuss your holiday preferences with your Manager so that as far as practicable your wishes can be accommodated. To help with work planning and rostering please give as much notice as possible. It is preferable that leave requirements are known before the work plan or roster is prepared. Your manager will promptly let you know whether your leave requests can be met so that you can finalise your own arrangements.

28. Resolution of Employment Relationship Problems

28.1 Suspension

28.1.1 The employer may suspend you from your duties, on pay, where necessary and appropriate, while it investigates any allegation of misconduct, or incident affecting safety in which you appear to be involved.

28.1.2 The parties to this agreement are committed to the speedy resolution of employment relationship problems.

28.1.3 This clause sets out the services available for the resolution of employment relationship problems. An "employment relationship problem" includes a personal grievance, a dispute (about the interpretations, application, or operation of an employment agreement) and any other problem relating to or arising out of an employment relationship.

28.2 Tell your manager first

If you have a problem in your employment, then you must let your manager know immediately, so it can be resolved promptly and fairly. If the matter remains unresolved or if you consider your manager is the cause of the problem you should go to a more senior manager. For Personal Grievances there is a time limit on when you have to do this.

28.3 Mediation Services

28.3.1 If you are not satisfied with your employer's response, then you can contact the Employment Relations Service Te Ratonga Hononga Taimahi for free mediation assistance. The mediator will try to help the parties resolve the problem, but will not make a decision about what should be done to resolve the problem unless you and the employer agree to this.

- 28.3.2 If the problem referred to the Employment Relations Services is a dispute about the interpretation, application or operation of this Collective Agreement, you must ensure that the RMTU is given notice of the dispute.

28.4 Employment Relations Authority

If the problem is still not resolved, then you can apply to the Employment Relations Authority for assistance. The Authority will investigate the problem, and will make a decision. This decision can be appealed to the Employment Court and then to the Court of Appeal.

28.5 Representation

At any stage, you are entitled to have the RMTU or other representative working on your behalf to try to resolve the problem. Your employer can also choose to have a representative working on its behalf.

28.6 Personal Grievances

- 28.6.1 If you have grounds for raising a personal grievance with your employer (for unjustified dismissal, unjustifiable disadvantage, discrimination, sexual or racial harassment, or duress), then you have 90 days of the action occurring, or the grievance coming to your notice. Otherwise your claim may be out of time.
- 28.6.2 If you raise your grievance out of time, your employer can consent to accept the late grievance or to reject it. If the employer rejects it, you can ask the Employment Relations Authority to grant you leave to raise the grievance out of time.
- 28.6.3 If you have been dismissed you may within 60 days after the dismissal request your employer to provide a statement in writing of the reasons for the dismissal. Your employer must give the statement within 14 days after being asked.
- 28.6.4 If the personal grievance is not resolved and it is based on a claim of discrimination or sexual or racial harassment you can choose to either pursue a personal grievance to the Employment Relations Authority or complain under the Human Rights Act 1993. Both procedures cannot be used for the same complaint.

29. Contracting Out, Outsourcing or Sale

- 29.1 KiwiRail prefer to utilise their own people and equipment for its on-going business activity.
- 29.2 In furtherance of this preference, the commitments in Clauses 2, 3, 4 and 5, and in recognition of the principle that job security, skills, development, and a fair employment policy will best ensure trust, goodwill and mutual respect, and an employee commitment to customer service, the employer confirms its commitment in regard to contracting out, outsourcing or sale as follows:

- 29.2.1 That, wherever possible work falling within the scope of the positions in the Pay Schedule on which employees covered by this agreement are engaged, as at the commencement date of this agreement, will continue until the expiry date of this agreement to be undertaken by its own employees.
- 29.2.2 Where it is not possible to undertake particular work using the employer's own employees in an efficient manner, at a reasonable cost and to an acceptable level of quality, consideration may be given to contracting out, outsourcing or selling work currently performed by employees covered by this agreement to third party contractors or labour agencies. It is acknowledged that employees of labour agencies may be engaged on an urgent or short term basis.
- 29.3 The employers' acknowledge that any such decision to contract out, outsource or sell should not be based solely on strict commercial criteria and the competitive position of the business, but must also give proper weight to factors such as:
- Customer service
 - Quality
 - Efficiency and flexibility
 - Organisational knowledge and experience
 - Safety
 - The value of job security, skills development and a fair employment policy
 - The commitment of its own employees
- 29.4 The RMTU acknowledges the ongoing need for flexibility, efficiency, and customer focus in order to continuously improve the competitive position of the businesses and attractiveness of services to its customers.
- 29.5 The impact of a contracting out, outsourcing and sale decision which results in redundancy of existing staff is greater than a decision to contract out work which does not directly affect employees. This must be reflected in the process leading to high impact decisions.
- 29.6 The employers acknowledge that the consultation process provided for in this agreement will be utilised in respect of any proposals or intended decisions as above and further acknowledges that the consultation process is a minimum requirement.
- 29.7 The above provision is limited to the term of this collective agreement. The parties agree to formally review the application and operation of this provision for the future on the expiry of this agreement. The parties record their preference for continuing to address this issue within this framework and also acknowledge that their ability to continue to do so is dependant on both parties being satisfied that a balanced approach is being adopted.
- 29.8 To this end, KiwiRail acknowledges the need to demonstrate that the inherent benefits of the employment relationship were factored into any decisions to proceed or not to proceed with contracting out proposals. The parties accept that arbitrary formulae are impractical and that KiwiRail's position will be demonstrated in practice and not theory

- 29.9 The RMTU similarly acknowledges that it will need to demonstrate that its members have been willing to implement practices which improve KiwiRail's competitive position through improved customer focus, efficiency and flexibility. The RMTU further acknowledges that the actions of its members in this regard have direct linkage to KiwiRail's willingness to take into account factors beyond a cost/benefit analysis.

31.3 Agency Temps / Casual Employees

- 31.3.1 The period of assignment for an agency casual/temp will not exceed 6 continuous months. Any offer of employment will be permanent or a fixed term arrangement.
- 31.3.2 During the employment of agency temp employees, no permanent employee of the same occupation who is available to transfer to this work will be declared redundant.

KIWIRAIL FREIGHT SCHEDULE

1. Superannuation

Remaining sick leave entitlement will be added to that leave. This is on the basis that any such proposal is considered on its merits and any opposition advanced is reasoned and logical.

The parties have committed to act reasonably and in good faith in an effort to reach agreement on implementation of single person remote control in accordance with the terms of reference. This undertaking will cease on 30 June 2012.
- 3.5 If an employee was previously paid under the KiwiRail or KiwiRail Passenger Locomotive Running pay scale during their current continuous employment and that employee resumes locomotive running employment, the employee will be paid under the relevant locomotive running pay scale; all current continuous service during which a locomotive engineers operating certificate was maintained will count as service for pay under the scale.

3.6 KiwiRail and the RMTU agree that the arrangements agreed to and outlined in the Memorandum of Understanding between KiwiRail and the RMTU dated 13 October 2008 for part of this employment agreement and will continue for the term of this agreement.

KIWIRAIL NETWORK SCHEDULE

1. Joint Commitment to Training

- 1.1 It is agreed between the RMTU and ONTRACK Infrastructure Limited that all employees should be encouraged to participate in, and accept training opportunities, i.e. NZQA, in house and OJT to the fullest possible.
- 1.2 The parties agree that NZQF qualifications enhance the skills of the employees and the productivity of the company, and the parties record their belief that a highly skilled and trained workforce is in the best interests of all.
- 1.3 It is recognised that some employees may choose not to participate in the skill based pay system. These employees will retain their current rates of pay and conditions.
- 1.4 Until there are revised advancement criteria for rail maintainers, appointments to rail maintainer positions above the base for the grade will be at the higher rate.

2. KiwiRail Infrastructure - Rest Period

- 2.1 Broken sleep patterns are likely to affect your safe and effective performance during the next work period. Your manager may give you paid time off. In any event the following will apply:
 - i) Call Backs – if there is a call back which breaks the period between 2300 and 0530 hours your manager will allow you time off from the next work period without loss of pay if it is due to start the following morning. Such time off will be the greater of equivalent time off in lieu of the call back, or an unbroken rest period without loss of 6 hours.
 - ii) Other Work periods – if there are fewer than 10 consecutive hours off between work periods, your manager will allow you equivalent time off to make up the 10 hours without deduction from pay.
 - iii) Note; the parties draw the attention of heavy trade vehicle drivers to the driving hours as contained in the log book.

3. Leave Entitlements

- 3.1 KiwiRail Network Infrastructure employees spending substantial time away from home will be granted an additional one week's annual leave, prorated if they are away for less than a year.

4. At Work on Public Holidays

- 4.1 KiwiRail Network (CORE) operates a year round business and that means for Train Controllers, Signal Box Controllers and Traction Control Operators will be needed on public holidays. However, KiwiRail Network understands that employees will want to enjoy public holidays and so will invite employees to volunteer to work on these days. However, in the event that there are no, or insufficient, volunteers, employees whose shifts would otherwise have fallen on the day, will need to fill their shifts. If you work on a public holiday and that day would otherwise be a working day;

- i) You will receive double the hourly rate for each hour worked (except for train controllers and casual employees who will be paid time and a half of their relevant daily pay for the hours worked on the public holiday) and
- ii) You will be granted another day off on pay calculated at your relevant daily pay (including overtime, and allowances that you would have received on the alternative day) at a time agreed with KiwiRail Network, or if agreement cannot be reached, at a time within 12 months determined by you after taking KiwiRail's view into account on when it is convenient to take the alternative holiday. This subclause will not apply in the case of a shift employee where you have received a full shift off duty on pay in respect to the public holiday, notwithstanding that some hours of work may have been performed on the public holiday either completing a shift prior to the holiday or commencing a shift on the holiday.

5. Skill Based Pay

- 5.1 KiwiRail Network (Infrastructure) and RMTU agree to jointly develop and implement a comprehensive skill based pay system within 18 months from signing of the agreement.

- 5.3 KiwiRail Network will provide appropriate resources to ensure the success of the project
- 5.4 The Skill Based System will be based on NZQA standards
- 5.5 Once developed the Skill based Pay System will be implemented by variation to the Collective Agreement.

6. Training Allowance – “OJT” Safety Critical Roles (KiwiRail Network CORE)

- 9.3 Any agreement will be recorded in writing. This agreement will include the hours of work, duration of the agreement, maximum work periods, breaks and number of consecutive days that can be worked and any other provisions the parties feel appropriate.
- 9.4 Breaks – a meal break will be taken at or about the mid point of each work period. This meal break will be for at least 30 minutes and not more than 60 minutes. Rest periods of 10 minutes will be taken at or about the quarter and three quarter points of the work period. Where meal breaks are at fixed times they will be unpaid.
- 9.5 In recognition of the fact that infrastructure work is ideally a day time occupation and KiwiRail is requiring you to work outside for long periods at night in less than ideal circumstances, you will receive an allowance of $65.88 ($67.59 from 26/6/11) for each qualifying week worked on infrastructure night work. This payment will be prorated where shifts are not worked due to annual and other approved paid leave being taken during any week.
- 9.6 Night workers shall be entitled to an additional week's annual leave, prorated if an employee is on shift for less than a year.
